FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BGMU AWARDED OPERATIONAL EXCELLENCE AWARD

Bowling Green Municipal Utilities received an Operational Excellence Award for continued outstanding operation of its Water Recovery Facility (WRF) from The Clean Water Professionals of Kentucky & Tennessee for calendar year 2019. This is BGMU's tenth consecutive year for receiving this distinction.

This award is given annually to publicly owned and industrial water recovery facilities that have achieved permit compliance during the previous calendar year by having no more than one violation of their National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit. Each qualifying facility must present written documentation, with the appropriate state agency confirming the applicant's overall regulatory compliance. BGMU has had zero violations during the ten years of receiving this award.

BGMU's water recovery system is staffed by professionals in engineering, operations, maintenance, industrial systems and instrumentation systems. The industrial pretreatment program works with local industries to ensure waste output complies with standards for environmental protection. Class III and IV treatment plant operators complete 24 CEU training hours every two years to maintain competence on operational procedures and technological advances.
